The Hudson River is quickly becoming the destination point for anglers from around the globe. Our many stocked streams and lakes have miles of public access available, and hunters and water fowlers can challenge themselves at one of our many multiple use areas. striped bass, blue crab, brown bullhead, carp, white catfish and American shad.

Dutchess County is one of the top two counties in the Southern Region of New York State for deer hunting, with a special archery season for deer spanning about six weeks, Oct.-Nov. NEW FOR GROUPS!

Innisfree Garden

Stroll through this exquisite historic garden that combines modern design landscape and delightful Asian “cup” gardens, filled with rare plants and flowers and a shimmering lake. Recognized to be one of world’s ten best gardens; a sublime composition of rock, water, wood and sky. Guided group tours available.

Towne Crier Cafe

The New York Times reviews “A gem of a performance space... they take their food seriously”. This renowned restaurant in Beacon is an intimate performance venue now offering group dining for lunch or dinner and features local farm ingredients, infamous desserts, and options for live entertainment and customized music.

Walkway over the Hudson – Glass Elevator

Now the world’s longest pedestrian bridge gives groups an even more elevated experience. When you book a Walkway guided tour, your ambassador guides will escort your group up and down the brand new riverside elevator for unbelievable views!

Dutch’s Spirits

Raided by federal Prohibition agents in 1932, the original bootlegging bunkers of iconic Dutch Schultz still stand for groups to get a look up close. Guided tours, farm-to-table meals, beautiful scenery, and of course, spirits sampling... mocktails available too!
