The Livingstons - Founding Family of the Hudson Valley

Clermont State Historic Site

This majestic mansion on the bluffs of the Hudson River initiates the first family of the Livingston lineage and the beginning of aristocratic life in the Hudson Valley. Share intimate details of the blue-blooded family's home life with photographs, stories, and music straight from their collections!

Groups may also enjoy the UnderWhere Presentation demonstrating period clothing of the 18th century.

Enhance your tour with a delicious gourmet boxed lunch, relaxing along the estate's exquisite gardens, as you take in their extraordinary Hudson River views.

FUN FACT

The Livingston's land of over 500,000 acres, once extended across the Hudson River as far west as Woodstock, as far south as Rhinebeck and as far east as the Massachusetts border,... or as the family preferred, "As far as the eye can see".
